

Do not weaken the do not call program. They are already finding ways to get around it and calling many times again.